This book will help you understand that Patriarchy and Capitalism are interconnected systems in need of immediate abolishment - they are the culprits of today's ills we and our societies face.

We will see how political ideology is, in fact, a cycle, and boldly expand on the theory of anarchocommunism.

The earth is dying, and all of us need to come together in order to save it. So let's define the left, the right, the state, and the revolution differently.
